

Truly Blessed

(Music & Lyrics Christine Sweet)

I'm truly blessed to have the right to touch you
When my hand touches your skin, I can hardly hold it in Your eyes are like the eyes of the only man on earth
To be by your side is more than I deserve

Chorus:

It's in your typical eyes, they're falling down on me
It's in the way that you smile, what's coming in to me
It's in the way that you come baby, what's really getting me
The way that you come

Even when you're weak, I think you are stronger than you know
When tears fall out of your eyes, I'm caught between desire and grieve
Sometimes it's even worse when your heart is open and your soul shine's through
I can't move, I can't speak, I almost disappear for you

Chorus:

It's in your typical eyes, they're falling down on me
It's in the way that you smile, what's coming in to me
It's in the way that you come baby, what's really getting me
The way that you come

Solo:

The way that you come
It's in the way that you come, baby

Bridge:

You're so wonderful, you amaze me
You're incredible, make me crazy

Chorus:

It's in your typical eyes, they're falling down on me
It's in the way that you smile, what's coming in to me
It's in the way that you come baby, what's really getting me
The way that you come, baby

Outro:

It's in the way that you come baby, It's in the way that you come baby
It's in the way that you come baby, It's the way that you come baby
